The Valhalla Problem

There's a growing resentment among local school supporters over Grossmont High School District's determination to build the new, 2,000-student Valhalla High School near Cottonwood Country Club at Jamacha and Hillside rds.

A successful $6 million bond issue in 1967 had earmarked $4 million for high school construction leaving $2 million for capital improvements among other schools.

In 1968 voters approved an override election which district administrators said was needed for operation of district programs.

As plans for Valhalla progressed, it was found that only $2.4 million was left of the original $6 million. The rest had been spent for other items and the tab for the new school was now up to $6.6 million.

Last year, voters showed disapproval by rejecting a $19 million bond issue which was to replenish the Valhalla building funds—among other things.

On November 10, this year, the high school board voted to use override (operating) funds to help build (capital funds) the new school.

This distressed many of the persons who had worked diligently supporting district financial requirements. Surfacing was a committee which is distributing petitions by which the Board is urged to keep its word to voters. Copies of the petition are available at the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce. The petition reads:

We the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the Grossmont Union High School District, supported and voted for the tax override election November 5, 1968. Because we were told by the Administration that the tax override money would be used for operations and not for capital outlays.

Quotation from tax information sheet distributed by the district.

QUESTION—What is the money from the operating tax for?

ANSWER—It is used for all operating expenses. This includes salaries of all employees teachers, counselors, custodians, secretaries, administrators, gardeners, librarians, books, instructional supplies, insurance, upkeep and repairs, utility bills, and some capital outlay for equipment and furniture are provided from operating funds.

We believe the Administrators and the Board has not kept faith with the supporters of education to pass the successful override election based on the question and answer concerning the purpose for which the override funds are to be used.

The Administration and the Board in proposing to build the ninth high school with tax override funds is increasing the credibility gap that already exists because of the use of previous bond funds for purposes other than purposes the voters were told the funds would be used for when the bonds were passed in 1967.

The petitioners respectfully request that the Board of Trustees rescind its recent action to use override funds for construction of the ninth high school in as much as the action is in direct conflict with the direction given the Board by the voters.

Among those sponsoring the petitions is Mildred Ruth, a La Mesa housewife who has long been a leader in supporting high school money elections. In 1968 she was chairman of the override issue in her area and it passed overwhelmingly. "I personally feel that the board of education is breaking faith with the community if the (override) funds are used for any major construction" Mrs. Ruth said. "Future tax overrides will have little or no chance of passing . . . if the board . . . does not retain the funds for programs rather than construction."

A petition circulator said he had responded to the movement because Mrs. Ruth's energetic but expensive campaign for the override election in 1968 had produced a plurality of 1542 votes. The issue passed by only 1,443 votes, he noted.

Researchers for the petition committee offer evidence that overcrowding exists at four of the District's eight high schools and these should be corrected first. The committee contends that Valhalla's location is too distant to aid them.

Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista are on double sessions with 2,799 and 2,698 students respectively. Santana with 2,546 is on down and El Capitan recently reached a 2,246 population. "Valhalla is simply too far away to effectively reduce pressure on these schools," Mrs. Ruth said. "It is also questionable whether there is enough school population to justify Valhalla under existing conditions."

One study showed that several elementary schools in the Grossmont District have lost population. This suggests that high school enrollment will soon taper off petitioners say.

In 1969 Alpine's 777 students are this year's 700; La Mesa-Spring Valley's 15,199 total in 1967 is now 14,255; Lemon Grove's 1965 3,951 total is now 3,818; Santee, Lakeside and Cajon Valley population totals have increased, however.

Lillian Collette, a Lemon Grove housewife who has also been a strong supporter of high school tax issues, has chilled somewhat as a result of the Valhalla matter. She served as a member-at-large on the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Mrs. Collette presented a letter to the Grossmont board November 10 in which she criticized the Valhalla "swimming pool and other elaborate structures."

She reported that 14 people on the Committee did not cast votes favoring the construction of Valhalla. These members represented Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, larger parts of La Mesa, Santee and Lakeside.

She urged the board to postpone construction action for a year.

Dr. Austin Sellery, superintendent of the Grossmont Union High school district said that it is not improper to use tax money for capital purposes. Some text books, he said, indicate that a combination of tax and bond money is a happy amalgam in school financing—sort of like families who make a down payment and finish paying it off out of income.

It would have been helpful, he said, if the school board had been able to see into the future at the time of the override election. "What we are getting down to is a comparison of importance of (the need for) Valhalla and the board's ability to forecast a financial need," he said.

In the matter of cost, he said, the difference is four-tenths of one cent. The current rate is 28.5 cents. "Putting all available resources into the pot for the lowest rate possible, we calculate that it will be 28.9 cents and that will not be charged until next year," he said.

He explained this projection was based on an assessed

THROUGH THE NILE — Troy st. in Spring Valley wasn't exactly the Nile River last week, but rains caused a nearby creek to flood, covering portions of the street with more than 12 inches of water. Flooding was the result of two storms which hit Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. The first storm dropped .32 inches Tuesday evening and

.05 inches Wednesday morning. A second storm, which arrived Thursday morning, dropped .84 inches Thursday and an additional .47 inches Friday. The total for the season to date is now 4.18 inches, as compared to 1.26 at this time last year. Rain season is from July 1.

Completion In Fall Hoped For Complex

The reality of a swimming pool at Monte Vista High School moved a step closer last week when the school's Booster Club approved a timetable for the construction of the third phase of a stadium complex.

The complex, which includes a lighted football field with concrete bleachers, restrooms, and concession stands, has been completed except for the pool, which will be utilized by the school water sports teams, other teams in the district, as well as the community.

Price tag for the proposed aquatic center has been set at $160,000, and it is expected to be open by the fall of 1973. Construction will begin in March of 1973, if all goes according to plan.

The Boosters Club has raised about $10,000 for the project so far, including $7,289.76 donated last week by the Monte Vista Swim Association, which has also agreed to donate about $10,000 next year.

Other money earmarked for the project includes $3,000 netted annually from the Booster Club concession stands at the stadium complex, a sum which

Marijuana Charged In SV Arrest

Two Spring Valley men were arrested last week and charged with possession of marijuana after they were seen in a car parked on Dictionary Hill with two female companions.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the vehicle was observed parked diagonally in the roadway at the corner of San Bernardino and Apple on Dictionary Hill. The driver of the vehicle was contacted and a strong odor of burned marijuana was detected.

Outside the driver's door was about half an ounce of a greenish vegetable matter similar in appearance to marijuana, as well as a bottle of whiskey.

Deputies noted a partially smoked hand-rolled cigarette inside the vehicle. At that time, Dennis W. Lyman, 25, and Dennis M. Tucker, 21, both of 8704 Troy st., Spring Valley, were placed in the back seat of the patrol vehicle. The two females were not arrested, according to reports, as there was no odor of alcohol or marijuana on their breath or persons.

A search of the suspect vehicle netted two more partially smoked hand-rolled cigarettes. The two suspects were then removed from the rear seat of the patrol car and the seat was checked for contraband. Deputies found a plastic baggie containing a substance believed to be marijuana. The rear seat of the car had been checked prior to the suspects' presence and there was nothing there.

Gun Struggle Proves Fatal

A Lemon Grove man was pronounced dead at the scene of a shooting last Wednesday after a struggle with his brother over the gun.

Dead of a gunshot wound to the chest was Richard Helbert, 20, of 3206 Citrus st., according to reports from the Coroner's Office.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, Helbert was arguing with his brother, Ronald M. Helbert, 27, of the Citrus st. address, which was the scene, when the struggle for the gun ensued.

The elder Helbert, who was paralyzed from an automobile accident, was not arrested.

Pattern Seen In Operation

A robber using a modus operandi similar to one used by a robber earlier this month escaped on foot last week with about $50 taken from the Dean's Photo Booth in Lemon Grove.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the suspect approached the booth on foot, displayed a knife to the clerk, and demanded film and money.

After filling a canvas bag with about $50 in cash, the suspect gave the knife to the clerk and told her to cut the telephone cord. After regaining possession of the knife, the suspect told the clerk not to leave the booth and that if she did, an accomplice parked across the street would shoot her.

The crime was similar to one reported November 2 at the Spring Valley Dean's Photo booth, where a suspect gave the clerk his knife to cut the phone cord and threatened to have an accomplice shoot her if she did not keep her head down.

The description of the robber, which did not match that of the suspect in the earlier robbery, indicated that he was a male Mexican, about 25 years old, about 5-10 and 150 pounds, wearing a gold windbreaker jacket, green levis, and camouflage-type tennis shoes.

Monte Vista Hosts Amigos

Faculty members and students from Monte Vista were on hand Tuesday night at Lindbergh Field to welcome 29 Mexican youngsters in the Grossmont High School District's Operation Amigo program.

Operation Amigo, sponsored annually by the San Diego Union and Evening Tribune, is now in its tenth year. Schools hosting the Mexican students participate on a rotating basis.

Under the program, youngsters attending Monte Vista-Spanish classes host the visitors, who then attend classes and participate in several outings, including a trip to Disneyland next Wednesday, with their "amigos."

The Mexican students will leave December 10.

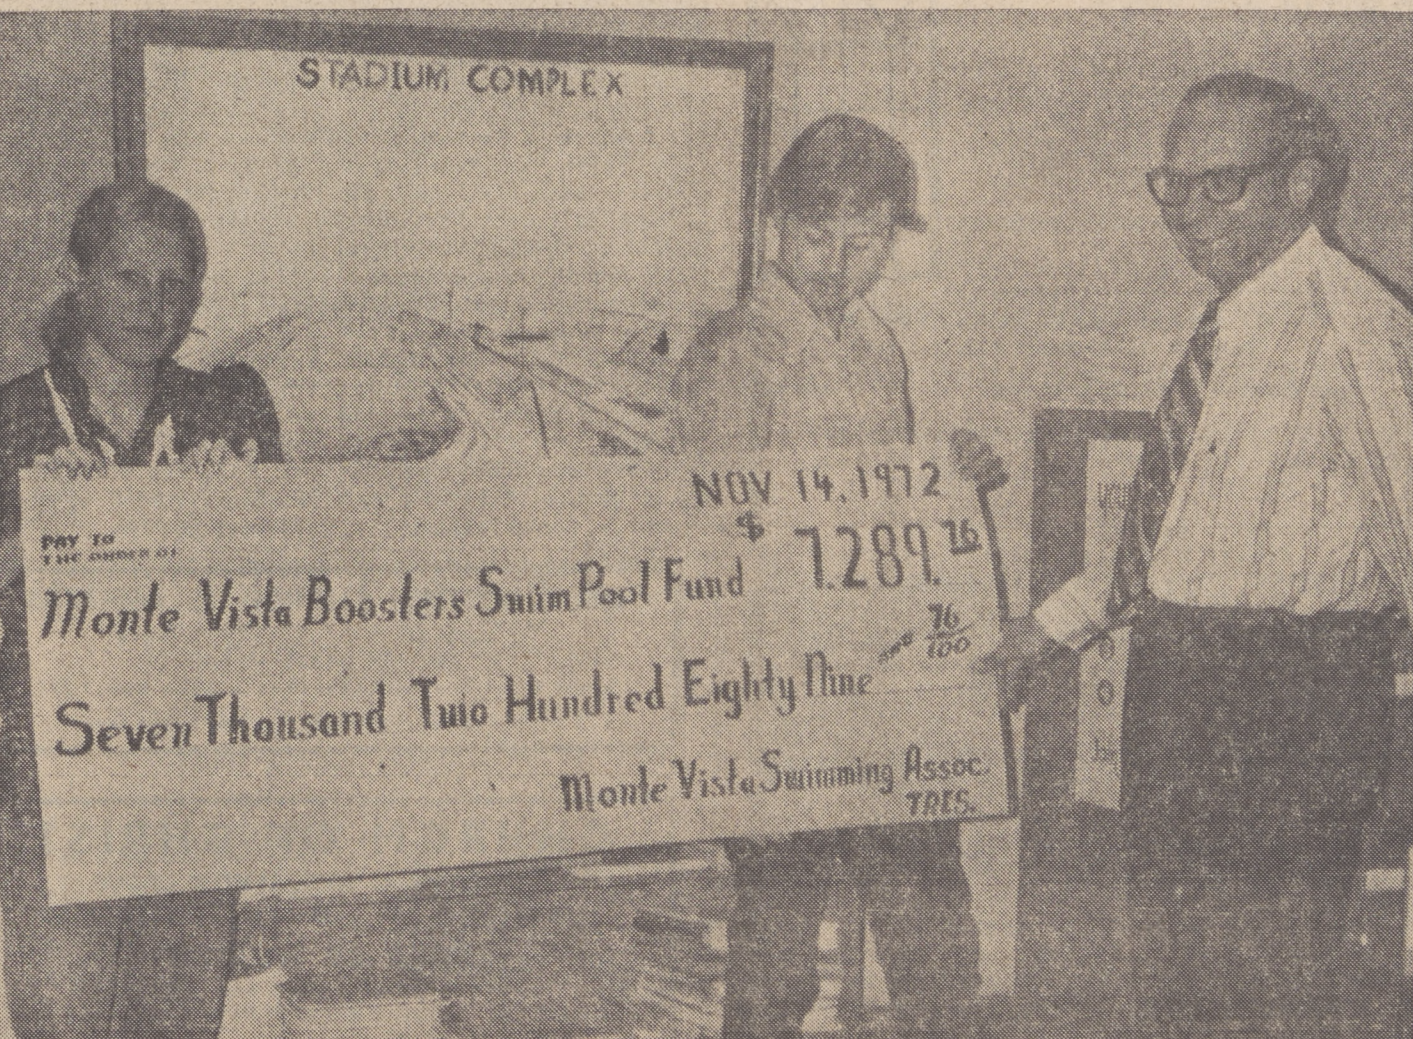

United Crusade Extension Aids Local Drives

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley United Crusade campaigns have been extended one month to December 13, when a final report will be made by the entire San Diego countywide volunteer structure.

Community Crusade chairman Robert Guest of Lemon Grove and Alex Struthers of Spring Valley have both reacted favorably to the needed extension of time.

According to Guest, the Crusade campaign in Lemon Grove is now at 67.2 per cent of goal with $8,343.40 contributed. "This does not include many of our larger gifts and the additional time will allow these accounts to be completed. It is our only hope for a victory," he said.

Spring Valley chairman Struthers reacted in a similar manner, reporting that "We are at 69 percent of goal and still a long road ahead. The $2,575.50 raised at this point does not include many accounts with past giving records that must be contacted. More time will allow us to touch all bases. The extension of the campaign is a windfall of good luck."

POOL FUNDS — Patricia Blocker, left, of the Monte Vista girls swim team, along with Dave Jordan, of the school water polo team, present principal Robert Brady with an oversized check for funds raised by the Monte Vista Swim

Association. The funds were donated to the school Boosters Club last week and will be used to help finance a pool for the school.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

"Camino" means "way" or "road." In Southern California we have many streets that contain "camino" as a part of the name. There is "Camino de la Costa" (Coast Road), "Camino de Oro" (Golden Way) and "Camino" used in the "Camino - Real" which means "The True Road" or "The Royal Road."

"Modo" is another word which may be used to express "way." This is seen in expressions like "El no tiene un modo agradable." (He doesn't have a pleasant way about him.) and "Vamos a utilizar todos modos posible para ganar." (We are going to use every way possible to win.)

"Medios" suggests the English idea of "ways and means." Examples of this are seen in expressions like "Necesitamos los medios para hacer esto." (We need the ways and means for doing this.) and "El no tiene los medios para acabar su trabajo" (He doesn't have the ways and means for finishing the work.)

"Hasta cierto punto" literally means "until a point" but is an idiomatic expression which would be translated to "in a way." This may be heard in expressions like "Hasta cierto punto es mejor." (In a way it is better.) and "Hasta cierto punto quiero creerlo." (In a way I want to believe him.)

"A lo lejos" is interpreted as "way off." It may be expressed in "El los ve a lo lejos en las montañas." (He sees them way off in the mountains.) and "Ella no puede ver a lo lejos." (She can not see way off.)

"A proposito" is translated to "by the way." It is usually an introductory clause as may be seen in "A proposito, que paso con su amigo en la oficina?" (By the way, what happened to your friend in the office?) and "A proposito, Yo vi a su amigo ayer." (By the way, I saw your friend yesterday.)

Try these practice phrases below with the aid of the recording on 276-2762.

Say "Esta en mi camino," (eh-STAH ehn mee-kah-MEE-noh) for "It is in my way."

Say "Todos tienen sus modos." (TOH-thohs tee-EH-nehn soos MOH-thohs) for "They all have their ways."

Say "El necesita los medios." (EHL neh-seh-SEE-tah loh MEH-the-ohs) for "He needs the ways and means."

Say "Hasta cierto punto es verdad." (AHS-tah see-EHR-to POON-toh ehs vehr-DAHD) for "In a way it is true."

Say "A proposito, el gana." (ah pro-POH-see-toh ehl GAH sh pro-POH-see-toh ehl GAHNnah) for "By the way he is winning."

Say "Me gusta su modo." (meh GOOS-tah soo MOH-thoh) for "I like your way."

Deteriorating Pipeline To Be Replaced Here

About 8,300 feet of deteriorated and inadequate pipeline will be replaced in the Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and La Mesa communities under terms of a contract awarded last week by the Helix Irrigation District.

Successful bidder for the job was Long, Marker and Howley, of Spring Valley, with a proposal to do the work for $128,300. Next low bid, submitted by Ham Bros. of Lakeside was $139,366.

The Helix board authorized advertising for bids at its meeting October 11, after determining there would be no significant effect on the environment.

"Most of this pipe has been in place since 1938 or earlier," Chief Engineer Clarence Waters explained, "and is now deteriorated to the point where it is no longer adequate to provide service to residents of the area."

"Other portions must be replaced because housing construction within the area has exceeded our capacity to serve with existing facilities," Waters added.

Dividend Declared

The board of directors of San Diego Gas & Electric Company this week declared a quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share on the company's common stock. The dividend was the same as for last quarter.

fashion show. The boys, who modeled for the first time, proved as popular as their female counterparts, according to principal Louis Polluzzi.

Choir Presents Youth Musical Sunday Night

A Youth Musical, "The Boy Who Caught The Fish," will be presented by the thirty-five voice Junior and Junior High Choir of the First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove at 7 p.m. Sunday night.

The musical was written by Jack Coleman. Robert Doggett, Minister of Music, will direct the performance.

December 2, the church's High School Students will give a concert at the Festival of the Young Women's Christian Association. The Festival will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Downtown YWCA, 1012 'C' St. All proceeds will go to the YWCA Mutual Service Association for the establishment of new centers around the world.

The group, called "The Confrontation", has been trained by Doggett. They are volunteering their talents to the YWCA, but have made a professional tour of Canada and will make another to Hawaii this summer.

During the trip, the group plans to work with boys and girls and sing for servicemen stationed in Hawaii. To earn the money for the tour they will be washing cars, baby sitting, cutting grass, collecting newspapers, holding garage sales and other projects. The car washes are held each Saturday at six service stations in the Lemon Grove area. Call the First Baptist Church, 460-4811, for the location of the nearest station.

The Castillo de San Marcos National Monument at St. Augustine, Fla. was built by the Spanish in 1672 and is the oldest masonry fort in the U. S.

'Craft Sunday' Planned

Foothills United Methodist Church, Avocado Blvd., is having a "Holiday Craft Sunday", Nov. 26, from 1 to 5 p.m. Crafts to make for all ages, will take place in the church and nursery care will be provided.

Pot, Alcohol, Drug Possession Charged

Charges of possession of dangerous drugs, possession of marijuana, possession of marijuana paraphernalia, and possession of alcohol by a minor were filed against three occupants of a vehicle seen in a secluded area of Spring Valley last week.

Arrested were Lowell D. Duncan, of 10099 Sierra Madre, Spring Valley; Joseph W. Thompson, 18, of Arizona, and their 14-year old companion, also of Arizona.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the vehicle was observed parked at the scene at about 11:30 p.m. last Thursday night. Checking on the welfare of the occupants, deputies noted a heavy odor of freshly burned marijuana and noted several beer cans in the vehicle.

A search of the vehicle netted three hand-rolled cigarettes believed to contain marijuana in a cigar box. In another wooden box were found two ounces of marijuana in plastic bags, a red capsule believed to be seconal, a white tablet believed to be amphetamine, two small cube-shaped pieces of hashish, a jar containing numerous partially smoked hand-rolled cigarettes, and paraphernalia commonly used to smoke hashish.

Civic Theatre Readies 'Nutcracker' Production

Tickets are now available at Civic Theatre box office and all Metro ticket agencies for the California Ballet Company's full-length production of "The Nutcracker", to be performed December 15, 16 and 17 at Civic Theatre. The box office is open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily except Sunday.

A special discount of $1 for tickets purchased at the box office, is available to military personnel, senior citizens and students with identification. Regular ticket prices are $6.75, $5.50, $4.25 and $3.

This marks the second year the California Ballet has staged this holiday favorite. A total of five shows will be produced with performances at 8 p.m. December 15, 16 and 17, and at 2:30 p.m. December 16 and 17. All shows will be accompanied by a 45-piece orchestra composed of members of the San Diego Symphony under the direction of Michael Zearott.

The cast for the production numbers 125 performers in 140 roles. The six principal dancers chosen for this year's "The Nutcracker" include: R. Clinton Rothwell, former principal dancer with the National Ballet of Canada; Diane Davis, Marlene Jones and Douglas Hevenor, all leading principal dancers with the California Ballet; and Deborah Hadley and Bill Edward, staff members of the School of Performing Arts at United States International University.

"The Nutcracker", the story of a little girl who dreams her nutcracker doll has become a prince, was first performed in Russia in 1902. It was choreographed by Lev Ivanov from the inspiration of E.T.A. Hoffman's "The Nutcracker and the King of Mice", and put to music by Peter Tchaikovsky.

In 1944 "The Nutcracker" was staged by an American Company for the first time — the San Francisco Ballet — and since then has become America's most popular and successful yearly ballet tradition.

Today, in the U. S., more than 50 companies produce "The Nutcracker" each year.

Strings Specialist Splits Time

Last summer music students in the Grossmont District achieved a long-stated goal when trustees moved to hire a strong specialist to help with the orchestra program.

Carl Thompson, a music teacher who has been associated with the district since 1959, is the string specialist who this year is splitting his time between Granite Hills, Monte Vista, and Grossmont High Schools, spending one-third of each day on each of the campuses.

Thompson has played the violin since he was six years old and took his music degree from Long Beach State College with violin as his specialty. As a string specialist, Thompson is able to provide an expertise to the orchestra program which many band directors do not have.

One drawback has been that the orchestra program lumps together beginning students with advanced students. To provide advanced students an opportunity to perform to the full extent of their skills, the orchestras have this year established a chamber music series. Chamber music concerts are scheduled for the months of January, February, March and April.

Initially, performances will be to small groups of 50 persons, mainly consisting of district administrators and music teachers, parents, and music aficionados. If there is sufficient public interest, Thompson plans to move the performances to a small theatre.

Amazing Turnabout Completed As Mats Claim Share Of Title

The Mt. Miguel Matadors last week completed an incredible turnabout — from a winless season two years ago to the Grossmont League co-champs.

Mt. Miguel, which two years ago lost every game it played and by big margins, last Friday beat a desirous Monte Vista team, 7-0, to claim half of the loop title. Sharing the crown is Helix, the only team to beat the Miguel squad during league action.

'Super Team' Claims South State Meet

"Super team" has struck again.

The Grossmont College cross country team, running in the Southern California meet last week, scored a low 25 points to eliminate all doubt that the Griffins are the best team in the southern half of the state.

The undefeated Griffins, who won numerous invitations and dual meets this season, had left little reason for doubt even before the meet, but proved itself by besting some of the nation's best.

Second place in the Southern Cal meet went to Bakersfield with 75 points, followed by El Camino with 77 points.

Individually, it was an even bigger victory for the Griffins, as three members of "super team" came across the line in a tie for first place. Terry Cotton, possibly the nation's best junior college performer, tied with defending state champion Ed Mendoza and Griff star Tom Lux.

Finishing in seventh place was Larry Stone, who was followed by Bob Wilson in eighth place. Wilson, who ran as a non-scoring runner, did a fine job in possibly his best race of the season. He has been injured and ran as the "eighth man" on the seven-runner squad.

Had he run as a scorer, the super team total would have been an incredible 21 points.

Next stop is tomorrow afternoon at College of the Canyons for the state meet.

Monte Vista Whips Miguel For Loop Title

The Grossmont league cross country season ended as expected last week — with Monte Vista beating rival Mt. Miguel to take the league title undefeated.

The Monarchs, rated the top team in the county, had four unbeaten runners on the season, but emerged from the muddy race with just two in Gary Close and Mike McGrath. Previously unbeaten brothers Tom and Dan Wendt were knocked out of a perfect season by Mt. Miguel's Rick Debus, who ran just six seconds behind Close, the county's premier runner.

The race, which was at Monte Vista, was not run over the usual Monarch route, which was washed out by rains several days prior to the run. The new course, which measured two miles, was unfamiliar to both teams.

Mt. Miguel, winner of only two races on the season, was victimized this season by a gap between the team's second and third runners. The Matadors ran well with Debus and number two runner Joe Badger, who were consistently within a few seconds of one another. But that's as far as the finishing place went for Mt. Miguel, as 25 seconds and sometimes more elapsed from the time Badger finished and a third Matador could reach the line.

A time spread that large could enable a fairly strong opponent to put its entire team between Badger and the next Miguel runner, which would give the opponent the victory, even if Debus and Badger finished in the top two spots.

Monte Vista, meanwhile had little trouble with any team, and took the top four positions or better in every race but the last one. The only competition for the team was between its own runners.

The reason for the turnabout is a simple one. Enter Dwight Morris, the man who the season before had coached Granite Hills baseball. Morris turned the Miguel team into a winner his first year, not to mention boosting school spirit at the Spring Valley campus to new heights.

Morris last year introduced a "new" weapon: a rushing combination of Tim Miller and Dan Cowan and an occasional pass from young quarterback Jess Jenner.

The ball control offense coupled with a solid defense led the Matadors to an upset victory over Helix, and near upsets over league co-champs El Capitan and Grossmont.

Miller and Cowan graduated, but ball control was still on Morris' mind when the season opened this year. To an excellent running game he added more Jenner passes and possibly the most stubborn defense in town.

Relying greatly on under-experienced players, Morris

Westminster To Wrap Up USD Grid Season

Already guaranteed a winning season in its first year of football competition since 1961, the University of San Diego concludes its 1972 campaign Saturday night when Westminster College of Utah visits USD stadium at 7:30 p.m.

Head coach Andy Vinci will muster his injury-depleted group of 30 Toreros to face a tough Westminster team which competes in the Rocky Mountain Conference. The Parsons show a 3-5 won-lost record but play a stronger schedule than USD and offer a strong defensive lineup.

San Diego will display an offense which picked up 533 yards in a 41-27 victory over Azusa Pacific last week to run its won-lost-tied reading to 5-3-1.

Once again the Toreros will be paced by the running of halfback Sammy Croom, 6-2, 190-pound sophomore who broke his own school mark with 271 yards rushing against Azusa, including one record jaunt of 99 yards.

He now holds school standards of season yards rushing (1164), season total offense (1348), times carried season (178) and game (29), in addition to single game rushing and longest run from scrimmage. He has tied a record with 11 season touchdowns.

The seventh grade race was won by Steve Martin, of Spring Valley Junior High, who was timed in 7:22, just one second faster than teammate Louis Veneris, who took second place. The remainder of the S.V. Jr. High team didn't quite have it, as the group finished third with 67 points, well behind La Mesa with 40 points.

La Mesa Recreation Department cross country action.

Mark Keller led the way for La Mesa in the seventh grade race, taking fourth place in 7:35 over the 1.25-mile course. Other La Mesa runners who scored were Steve Bagley, sixth place, Mark Barnes, eighth, Tony Arellano, ninth, and Mike Bruner, 13th.

The outcome of this series, says Q officials, will pretty much determine the league leaders.

Helix Officials To Attend IDAV Meet

Harry Griffen, Helix Irrigation District Board of Directors Chairman, will preside over the Irrigation Districts Association of California semi-annual convention in Beverly Hills next week (November 28-December 1).

The Helix delegation will include Bob Rundell, Mabel P. Bryan, John B. Gibson and Nat L. Eggert, board members Byron Miller, Clarence G. Watters, Donald J. Shepard, and Ingrid Johansson, staff members.

During its meeting at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, the Association will consider a name change intended to better typify its membership. Only a minority of member agencies are irrigation districts, a designation intended for agencies supplying agricultural water primarily.

Coach Dave Jordan split the quarterbacking between freshman standout Dennis Core and the touchdown arm of Mike Rundle as the Griffins threw for 21 completions in 32 attempts and two TD's.

Leading the ground attack for the local squad was Tony Harper, who carried the ball 15 times and collected 75 yards.

The real effectiveness for the Griffins was a solid defense with a murderous pass rush. The Griffin front four did such a fine job against the pass that Riverside was forced into a shotgun formation during the second half.

team stumbled a bit during the pre-season, including an embarrassing loss to the county's top rated team, Sweetwater.

After that loss, however, the Matadors came alive. The defense jelled, and the offense came on strong, resulting in an exciting come-from-behind victory over El Capitan.

The team improved steadily, outlasting Santana in a thrilling shutout, upending a highly-rated Grossmont team on a mere field goal and safety for a second shutout, knocking off then-favored Granite Hills in a thriller, then seeing quarterback Jess Jenner injured in a loss to Helix.

The team recovered as Tom Madigan took over the QB chores, resulting in victory over hapless El Cajon, which brought the Matadors to last week, needing only a victory over Monte Vista for at least a share in the title.

The Monarchs were up for the game, which was played in the mud at Monte Vista.

Mt. Miguel's offense couldn't click in the first quarter as Monte Vista came out tough. But the Matador defense was its old self, stopping the Monarchs after a 60-yard drive to the 14-yard line.

After that stand, Mt. Miguel managed a drive and scored in the second period on a three-yard Steve Haynes run — the only score of the game.

The Matadors will be underdogs going into Saturday night's CIF playoffs against Lincoln, but win or lose, the team has established itself as a football power to be reckoned with.

Next year, possibly even better things are forecast as Morris puts together a team of solid varsity leftovers and the fruit of an undefeated jayvee squad.

La Mesa, La Presa Win Meet

La Mesa Junior High ran off with the team title for seventh graders while La Presa Junior High claimed the crown in the eighth grade race in La Mesa Recreation Department cross country action.

Mark Keller led the way for La Mesa in the seventh grade race, taking fourth place in 7:35 over the 1.25-mile course. Other La Mesa runners who scored were Steve Bagley, sixth place, Mark Barnes, eighth, Tony Arellano, ninth, and Mike Bruner, 13th.

The outcome of this series, says Q officials, will pretty much determine the league leaders.

Riverside Falls As Griffins Win Final Game

It took ten games to get there, but the Grossmont College football team finally arrived last Saturday afternoon as the Griffins trounced visiting Riverside, 32-6 at Aztec Bowl.

The tournament, sponsored by Central Federal Savings and Loan, is open to advanced, intermediate, and beginning players 18 years of age or younger. Awards will be given to winners and runners-up in all divisions.

Entry fees are $2 for singles and $3 for a doubles team. Entry is free for participants in their first tournament. Entry fees must be paid by December 8.

Deacon, Aldridge Plan 1 p.m. Sacktime for Oilers Sunday

Old pros never die. They play defensive end for the San Diego Chargers.

Deacon Jones and Lionel Aldridge will lead the Chargers (3-6-1) against the Houston Oilers (1-9) and their dangerous young quarterback Dan Pastorini at San Diego Stadium Sunday. Kickoff is 1 p.m.

First 20,000 fans to enter the gates will receive free the new large color team picture of the 1972 Chargers, courtesy of Pepsi Cola. Reserved and general admission tickets are available now at Stadium Gate E.

Defensive ends were the No. 1 item on Coach Harland Svare's shopping list this year. Latest market reports reveal Svare bargained wisely while acquiring Deacon Jones, 11-year veteran from Los Angeles, and Lionel Aldridge, 10-year veteran from Green Bay, along with tackle Dave Costa, 10-year veteran from Denver.

The Chargers have sacked enemy quarterbacks 20 times in 10 games compared to 19 times in 14 games in 1971. Twelfth in defense in the AFC last year, San Diego is sixth today.

Aldridge is the pace-setter with eight sacks, Jones has five, Costa four and Ron East three. East led Charger linemen in sacks last year with three.

Roommates on the road, Jones and Aldridge have different personalities. Deacon is a strong leader, a flashy dresser and has a flair for dramatics. Aldridge is an articulate speaker, meticulous dresser and a quiet leader.

"Both have contributed more than their share to the team this year," said Svare praising the San Diego defense for its major role in the Chargers' 27-17 victory over the Kansas City Chiefs before 79,011 at Arrowhead Stadium last Sunday.

The Chargers made four interceptions, two by cornerback Leonard Dunlap, recovered two fumbles and had sacks by Jones and Aldridge.

John Hadl and Cid Edwards were the offensive heroes in the first Charger victory at Kansas City since 1967. Hadl completed 17 of 28 for 216 yards and one touchdown, which came from 20 yards out on a one-handed catch by Gary Garrison. Edwards gained 62 yards rushing on 12 carries and 82 yards receiving on six catches.

Houston's attack has been bolstered by three new players obtained in recent trades. Running backs Paul Robinson and Fred Willis came from Cincinnati and wide receiver Dave Smith from Pittsburgh. Other targets for Pastorini, second-year pro from Santa Clara, are fleet receiver Ken Burrough and tight end Alvin Reed.

On defense, Houston boasts its all-star end Elvin Bethea. Who knows? He might grow up to be a Charger like Jones and Aldridge.

Mt. Miguel draws a tough foe in Lincoln, but should the Matadors get past the Hornets, they would play December 2 at Aztec Bowl against the winner of the Kearney-Vista game. Vista is favored in that one.

Mt. Miguel quarterback Jess Jenner, who was injured seriously in the league contest against Helix, is expected to be ready for the second round of playoffs, should the Matadors advance.

The winners of the two second round games will advance to the CIF championship battle December 8 at San Diego Stadium. Although it is not probable, Mt. Miguel and Helix could meet in that game.

Favored to make the finale are Sweetwater and Vista.

Climax Of Author Series November 29

"Your Higher Sense Perception Keyed to Creativity" will be explored in depth when Dr. Shafica Karagulla, physician and author, speaks at 8 p.m., November 29 in the Student Center at Grossmont College.

The last program in a series titled "Meet Award Winning Authors" presented by the college's Office of Community Services, Dr. Karagulla will discuss the findings of eight-years of research in "Higher Sense Perception".

Dr. Karagulla presents experimental evidence that cannot fail to intrigue and impress. She has discovered that H.S.P. abilities are far more widespread than anyone has supposed. Her research shows thousands of people already using these abilities and gifts in all areas of life.

Dr. Karagulla has authenticated by experimental procedures a wide variety of H.S.P. gifts. These include clairvoyance, telepathy, clairaudience, psychometry and precognition. She defines H.S.P. as the "ability to observe and experience hitherto unperceived dimensions of environment."

The public is invited and there is no charge for admission.

Karen Chadorch To Highlight NOW Confab

Karen Chadorch, a facilitator, or encounter group coordinator, at the National Center for Exploration of Human Potential, will discuss encounter groups from a woman's point of view November 28 at the monthly meeting of the San Diego County Chapter of the National Organization for Women.

The program will cover different kinds of encounter or "rap" groups, how the self-exploration sessions can help women in particular, and how encounter groups work, exploring the positive as well as the negative aspects.

In addition to her work as a facilitator, Mrs. Chadorch is Adult Community Relations Coordinator for the San Diego County Libraries. She describes herself as being for "human liberation — women and men alike."

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the main auditorium of the San Diego Gas & Electric Company, 101 Ash st. Interested persons are invited to attend.

CARTER STAGE PLAY — Frank Doyle and C. Wayland Capwell portray a pair of disheveled bums attempting to discover some meaning to their lives in the tragic-comedy "Waiting for Godot" opening November 28 and continuing through December 17 at the Carter Centre Stage, adjacent to the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park.

Jamul Crash Deadly To San Diego Man

A head-on automobile crash on Highway 94 near Jamul proved fatal for a San Diego man and sent others to a hospital with injuries last Wednesday night.

Dead at Grossmont Hospital, according to reports from the California Highway Patrol, was John Budd, 47, of 6645 Bell Bluff, San Diego.

Suffering minor injuries was Guilford Ogilvie, 49, of 1514 Woodrow ave., San Diego, the driver of the second vehicle. Moderate injuries were inflicted on his passenger, Peter Voros, 4330 53rd st., San Diego.

The mishap occurred when Budd, who was traveling westbound on 94, crossed over the center divider, crashing into the eastbound vehicle.

Roads To Be Resurfaced

Various County roads in the vicinity of Poway, Ramona, Escondido, El Cajon, San Juan, Lakeside, Lemon Grove, Casa de Oro and Fallbrook will be resurfaced as a result of a $151,840 contract awarded recently by the Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors William A. Craven and Henry Boney said the asphalt concrete resurfacing is needed due to increased traffic volumes and adverse weather conditions on the roads.

Craven and Boney said Asphalt, Inc., of El Cajon will begin work immediately and complete the contract not later than January. Improvements will be paid for out of gas tax funds.

Squirrels do not hibernate.

Controversial 'Godot' To Open Tuesday

One of the most controversial plays of modern theater opens Tuesday at the Carter Centre Stage in Balboa Park. "Waiting for Godot" will be presented at the arena theater nightly except Monday through December 17.

The Old Globe Theatre production of the Samuel Beckett tragic-comedy is directed by Peter Nyberg with the setting and lighting designed by Steven T. Howell. Costumes are designed by Brigitte Sitte.

"Waiting for Godot" was originally presented twenty years ago in Paris. The first theater-of-the-absurd play to attract world-wide attention, "Waiting for Godot" has been translated into more than twenty languages and is always playing somewhere in the world. The universal statements in the play transcend national, ethnic and racial barriers.

In "Waiting for Godot" Beckett comments on man's insignificance in the world and his unquenchable spirit in the face of little hope.

Many comic aspects of life are revealed by two disheveled bums portrayed by C. Wayland Capwell and Frank Doyle. They support each other as they anticipate the arrival of an individual known as Godot. The men believe the stranger will explain some meaning to their lives. They quarrel, complain, try to sleep and contemplate suicide as they attempt to comprehend their lives.

A dominant master arrives on the scene with his slave who interrupts the two tramps and provides a diversion from their activities. Ron Shapiro portrays the whip-wielding master and Don Jenkins is the slave. Bringing news about the anticipated arrival of Godot is a young boy, played by Danny Wingard.

Currently performing on the Old Globe Theatre stage through December 17 is the English farce "What the Butler Saw."

Students through college may purchase reduced price tickets to either "Waiting for Godot" or "What the Butler Saw" for $2 each. Discount tickets are available for all performances except Saturday night.

Water Polo

Matadors Win League Title

The Mt. Miguel High School water polo team, led by seven goals scored by Steve Solomon, beat the Monte Vista Monarchs, 11-10 last Thursday afternoon at Gunther Pool to claim the Grossmont League championship.

Monte Vista took the lead, 3-2, after the first quarter, and the Monarchs kept the lead until the fourth quarter until the Matadors tied the score with a half-court shot by Mark Price.

Solomon hit with the go-ahead goal minutes later, then hit another shot to stretch the lead to two goals. Monte Vista then tied it up again as the period waned, but Solomon scored again with two minutes remaining. The Matadors then hung on for the win.

The win for Mt. Miguel gave the team a 12-2 record for the season, and Monte Vista took second place with a 11-3 mark. Mt. Miguel's only losses came at the hands of Monte Vista earlier in the year and to Grossmont, the third place team.

Mt. Miguel, as league champ, will be top seeded in the CIF playoffs which will be Friday and Saturday at Gunther Pool.

'Project Insight' To Explore Innovations At Grossmont College

A new program designed to acquaint people in the community with a closeup view of the "individuals" that comprise the institution and attitude of Grossmont College has been initiated by the college's Office of Community Services.

While Grossmont College is well known as an educational institution, "Project Insight" will focus on students with unusual skills and talents, campus clubs that are involved in unusual projects and instructors who are using innovating techniques in their classrooms.

"Project Insight" will commence with an exploration of a new humanities class, Folk and Popular Culture in America. The class is taught by Spencer LaMoure and Bradley Wood. "We've always taught European Humanities," said Wood, "I think it's more appropriate to give Americans an idea of their own past."

The two Grossmont College instructors thus began an innovative humanities class that zeros in on the folk cultures of America. Wood and La-

Moure feel that little can be learned about our country if it is only viewed historically. "We're trying to understand the American mind through our folk traditions," commented LaMoure.

"As far as we know it's the first class of its kind," Wood said. Everything from the hero concept of Mr. America and John Wayne to the "tale" of Mickey Mouse is measured carefully. The ancient rites of palmistry, the more recent buy-a-home rites and various eras are explored.

With so many possible areas to study in the experimental class, students are primarily on their own. They are allowed to explore nearly any topic they desire, be it comic books or card tricks. Experimentation is also learning and students are required to complete a number of projects. These usually consist of a concentrated study on such topics as herb lore or quilting and then developing the newly found information into an oral presentation. Both instructors also require that a novel be read during the semester.

Term projects are only a part of the new course. The Monday night John Wayne Theatre is usually a must assignment. A field trip to El Cajon's Second Street or a new housing tract might also be on the weekly agenda.

Because student interest in the class has been so great, two more humanities classes of its type are in the planning stages. When asked how she liked the class, one flaxen-haired student commented, "It's like reading about myself in the textbooks. I'm part of history, simply because I exist."

Another student summed it up rather well, "With the world as your classroom, one only needs to be alive and aware of his senses to learn."

Gulls To Test Portland Bucks Saturday at 8

The San Diego Gulls snapped a three game losing streak on Sunday when they beat the Ft. Worth Wings of the CHL by a convincing 8-2 score.

Every goal was scored by a different player as the Gulls treated hometown fans to a balanced attack. Jim Stanfield, Bud DeBrody, Gerry Goyer, Bruce Cowick, Bob Courcy, Howie Hughes, Laurie Yaworski and Nels Venerus lit the red light for the Gulls for the scoring power and Ken Broderick shut the door in the nets for the Gulls.

The win over the Wings gave the Gulls a 2-0-1 record over teams from the Central League. The next time San Diego plays a team from the CHL will be in San Diego against the same Ft. Worth Wings on December 7.

Saturday night will feature the return of the Portland Buckaroos to San Diego. The Bucks will have several of the old stand-bys in the lineup including fan favorite Connie Madigan, veterans Larry Leach and Andy Heberton, center Guyle Fielder and all the rest.

Game time for the Saturday night contest is 8 o'clock.

Tickets are available at all Arena ticket outlets, and the Sports Arena ticket office.

Gulls Notes: Bruce Cowick had 21 penalty minutes in the Ft. Worth game with three minors, 1 major and a misconduct. . . The club record is 29 set by Jim Cardiff back on March 6, 1971 against the Phoenix Roadrunners. . . The Gulls are now 6-2-1 at home. . . This time last year after nine home games the Gulls were 6-2-1.

As Community Affairs Director, he will supervise the Affirmative Action Office, the activities of the Minority Community Affairs Officers, and head the Manpower Program, which includes the Public Employment Program.

SD Zoo Exhibits Alaskan Blue Bear For First Time

A little Alaskan blue bear rescued by a San Diego Zoo team earlier this month was placed on exhibit at the Zoo this week.

On hand for the bear's introduction to his new home near the guided bus tour depot were Cmdr. Marchel Tevelson, who commands a communications network that made possible the capture operation, and other military personnel involved in the rescue.

Cmdr. Tevelson, West Coast director for the Navy's Project Handclasp, was joined by members of the California Air National Guard, representatives of Alaska Airlines, and the 11th Naval District officers who were all part of the effort to get San Diego Zoo personnel to Yakutat, Alaska, where the blue bear was being tracked by trophy hunters.

San Diego Zoo veterinarian Dr. Charles Sedgwick, photographer Ron Garrison and mammal curator Clyde Hill flew to Alaska Oct. 28 to capture the rare animal. They returned Nov. 6, but the bear remained at the Zoo's hospital for observation until Monday.

The silvery blue, 100-pound bear is a male and is thought to be about two years old.

Zoo director Dr. Donald J. Kintner announced that the animal will be known as "Yakutat Barry," after the Alaskan community where he was captured and for Barry Shililo, Assistant Secretary of Defense, who was instrumental in getting the San Diego Zoo staffers to Alaska and back.

The Yakutat Coast Guard station had called the San Diego Zoo to report the presence of the bear in the small, remote community, where trophy hunters appeared eager to shoot the bear. However, other members of the community felt an effort should be made to capture the marauding animal.

In addition to facing possible death at the hands of hunters, the bear was noteworthy because of his rarity. The blue or glacier bear is a rare color phase of the American black bear and is found only at Yakutat, Alaska. None is known to be on exhibit in any other zoo.

With cooperation from the California Air National Guard and Alaska Airlines, a zoo team made it to the nation's biggest state, located and tranquilized the bear three days later, and returned it to San Diego.

Seminar To Attract County Dentists

A group of Southern California business experts will conduct a four day economic seminar for the University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine later this month.

The course "The Economic Realities of Professional Practice," and is a post-graduate, educational experience designed to aid the professional man in his financial planning and future security.

The seminar will begin in Palm Springs, Monday, in conjunction with the U. S. Dental Tennis Assn. Classic. Dr. L. Donald Guess, a Coronado dentist and president of Pyramidal Funding Systems, and his associates have been invited by Pennsylvania U. School of Dental Medicine to present a program which was described as innovative.

The seminar will stress proper use of credit to enable professionals to build substantial funds for financial growth. It will also provide information on legal and ethical methods of retaining income.

Along with Doctor Guess, scientific essayists for the course include Dr. Carl H. Jepsen of Coronado, Russ M. Vorwerk of Santa Ana, President of the Westlands Bank; J. William Hinchey, a San Diego attorney who specializes in corporate and business law, and Ernest D. Buckels, a realtor, of San Diego, President of Pyramidal Investment Properties.

The course will be offered at hours that allow dentists and their wives to participate in the fourth annual Desert Dental Tennis Classic.

Individual Exploration Series Will Continue

A public forum series devoted to individual exploration and development of personal potential will continue when Dr. Al J. Lewis speaks on

Co-sponsored by the La Mesa Library and the Office of Community Services, Grossmont College, the series titled "Discover Yourself and Rediscovers Your World," brings to the audience outstanding authorities on human relations.

Dr. Lewis, executive director, National Center for the Exploration of Human Potential, La Jolla, has served as a consultant to Israeli industry and government and as a program director in the Hebrew Institute of Technology, Haifa, Israel.

A graduate of Tufts University, he completed his doctoral studies at the Sorbonne, University of Paris where he graduated "with highest honors." He is a member of the Association of Humanistic Psychology, California State Marriage Counselors and the American Society for Training and Development.

SOMETHING NEW — Sheriff John Duffy's helicopter unit has added a new look. Sergeant Roger Griessel pins new insignia on Deputy Doug Huse. Officers assigned to this experimental law enforcement aviation unit are now authorized to wear distinguishing wings on the right breast of their uniforms. The officers wear the devices only while attached to the helicopter unit.

Unemployment Survey Begins

The Bureau of the Census launched a survey to measure unemployment in the San Diego area last week. C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles, said that San Diego is one of 12 areas across the Nation selected to be included in the survey. Nearly 62,000 households, 3,500 of them in and around San Diego, will be contacted.

The Census Bureau, part of the Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration, will conduct the survey for the Labor Department's Manpower Administration, he said.

Participating households were first interviewed during November and December of last year. Changes in the employment status of household members since that time will be determined during the upcoming interviewing, which will run into December.

Information supplied by persons participating in the survey is held confidential by law and is used only to compile statistical totals.

Mail Renewal Urged For '73 Registrations

Department of Motor Vehicles Director Robert Cozens isn't kidding when he urges motorists not to hurry to the local DMV office and pay their 1973 registration fees as soon as they get their renewal notices.

California vehicle owners will get their 1973 registration invoices from DMV exceptionally early this year — during Thanksgiving week or shortly thereafter. The timing conforms with the wishes of the United States Postal Service, which wants to make sure 14½ million first class envelopes reach their destination ahead of the Christmas mail rush.

But DMV offices won't be staffed to accept a heavy volume of renewals before December 1. Furthermore, the Department is urging motorists to register by mail rather than in person, sending the payment to their local DMV office.

"A large number of vehicle owners think they have to line up at a Department counter and pay in person," Cozens said. "Many may find an eight cent stamp a better investment than the time and gas required to visit a DMV office personally."

"To make the addressing easier, we put our computer to work selecting the DMV office nearest each vehicle owner's resident. The address of that office is printed on the renewal form."

"We prefer that the check or money order and the entire billing card be mailed to the local office rather than Sacramento, so as to make the best use of our statewide manpower."

"Motorists who prefer to register across-the-counter are welcome to do so after December first. Individuals with special registration renewal problems should make a personal call in any event," Cozens added.

CHP Orders Fleet

A fleet of 1,765 Dodge Polars will be purchased as replacement units for California Highway Patrol black and white patrol cars now in service according to CHP Commissioner Walter Pudinski.

The State Department of General Services will today issue a purchase order to Swift Dodge of Sacramento for the vehicles.

Security Officer, Purged By U.S. Is GOP Program

Otto F. Otepka will be the guest speaker at a special meeting of La Mesa Republican Women's Club Tuesday noon at Howard Johnson's Restaurant, Waring road and Highway 8. Reservations for the luncheon must be in by noon Friday, by calling 463-2340 or 463-1138.

Otepka served as security officer and investigator for the Civil Service Commission and as Deputy Director and Chief Evaluator, Security Affairs, for the State Dept. for over 25 years. He since served as a member of The Subversive Activities Control Board, and is now retired.

Otepka plans to expose the systematic destruction of himself and other anti-Communist intelligence officers who were purged from the State Dept. by officials who are still in control, according to Joe Reynolds, publicity chairman for the event.

He will show the vital influence of the U.N. over the State Dept. in 1955 and '57 when he refused to grant security clearance for Walt Rostow and he will show why he refused the request for the same by Kennedy in Dec. 1960. She said the program is open to students of American history, and all young people are welcome.

W. K. Shearer Seeks Top Spot Of A.I. Party

A Lemon Grove man, William K. Shearer, of 8160 Palm st., has announced his candidacy for the national chairmanship of the American Independent Party.

The contest will be decided at the A. I. national convention Dec. 1-3 in Dallas.

Shearer, a publisher and publicist, is a member of the state and national executive committee of the A.I. Party in California.

The post he seeks is being relinquished, he said, by T. C. Andrews, 73, of Richmond, Va. Andrews was a commissioner of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service under President Eisenhower.

Shearer said he was not discouraged by the November 7 presidential election although the conservative party's presidential candidate, Rep. John Schmitz garnered only about a million votes, compared to 10 million given to Gov. George Wallace of Alabama in 1968 when he was the third party candidate.

Spring Valley Youth Claims Film Honors

A group of four Southern California filmmakers, including a Spring Valley youth, who call themselves Four Square Productions has captured third prize in the senior category of the 1972 Kodak Teenage Movie Awards.

The four will receive a $50 cash award and a bronze medalion for their film, "Gone With The Babusland." The senior category is for super 8 and 8mm filmmakers ages 16 through 19.

The film was produced by John De Bello, 3727 Alta Loma dr., Bonita, a sophomore at the University of California at San Diego, with co-producers Stephen Peace, 19, 4133 Acacia pl., Bonita, a sophomore at U.C.-Davis; Costa Dillon, 19, 8850 Cora ct., Spring Valley; and Michael Grant, Garrett ave., Chula Vista, both freshman at Davis.

A search for a mysterious woman in a green dress — on St. Patrick's Day — is carried to ridiculous lengths by the inept crew of "Federal Intelligence Bureau" agents in the hilarious espionage comedy. Dozens of innocent women, and a collection of girl scouts are the victims of agent Matt Dillinger, an assistant who spends most of the film dragging an errant parachute about, and a squad of khaki-clad army types.

At the climax, in a struggle over a micro-dot packed with top-secret information, Dillinger winds up in a CARE package being shipped off to an undeveloped nation called Babusland.

"An interesting comedy with many gags," commented awards judges. They noted particularly "great acting . . . good comedy ideas . . . very neat job . . . excellent development."

The 29-minute, 51-second film comedy, which required 800 hours production time, was filmed on location throughout San Diego County. Director De Bello has won honorable mentions in two previous teen movie competitions.

The Kodak Teenage Movie Awards is sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company in cooperation with the University Film Foundation for the University Film Association, which is responsible for judging film entries, and the Council on International Nontheatrical Events, which chooses films from among the winners for showing at overseas film festivals.

Rules folders for the 1973 competition can be obtained by writing Kodak Teenage Movie Awards, Department 841, Eastman Kodak Company, 343 State Street, Rochester, New York.

Bicycle Safety Programs Opened At Jr. Hi Schools

The Accident Reduction Team (ART) of the California Highway Patrol, having gotten its bicycle court and bicycle safety courses (penalty phase) into operation, is now returning to the classroom.

ART officers have been in elementary school rooms, but now they are engaging students of junior high schools.

These classes, ART officers say, are more time consuming. Instead of offering the ART program class by class, as they did in the lower grades, it is offered during the first period of each bike safety day. That's due to class programming where students fan out to diverse classes after the first one.

Both Lemon Grove Junior high schools are in the program, and La Presa will be added on soon since students there often ride bikes into Lemon Grove.

At court, in its second week, youngsters who have been cited for unsafe cycling have all pleaded guilty. Judges at the court (specially trained high school students) meted out sentences ranging from a warning to a day at bike safety school and/or being assigned a 1,000 word essay on safety. Attending safety movies is also part of the penalty. A test follows the safety class.

Rainstorms interfered with the ART program last week. Officers were assigned to free-way safety during storms. During light rain CHP patrol cars rode nearby freeways with headlights on. They traveled only at speeds considered safe for conditions. Other drivers were urged to use this ART speed as a guide but were permitted to pass as desired.

Whenever visibility goes low enough to be hazardous, officers clicked on flasher amber lights and maintained a 40 mph speed and passing was forbidden.

There is only one question this week although readers are urged to ask questions, no matter how ignorant they may appear. There is no need to reveal one's identity, either by mail, phone or in person.

The question: During the storm which stopped the road work near my home, I found it easier to get to my garage by driving over about 50 feet of sidewalk. A neighbor said it's illegal. Is it?

It is. You can't drive on a sidewalk except to cross over at right angles to get to private property. While a sidewalk is part of the highway (right-of-way to right-of-way), it is not part of the roadway (curb-to-curb). Elementary when you understand definitions, isn't it?

Vaccines are available which can protect a dog from leptospirosis. Veterinarians will advise when the vaccine should be given and whether rabies, distemper or hepatitis protection will also be necessary.
